Municipal elections

Voters of Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach will go to the polls Tuesday. The balloting will choose five aldermen in Madison, four aldermen in Venice and a president, village clerk and three village board trustees in Pontoon Beach.

Polling places will open at 6 a.m. in all three municipal elections. The polls will close at 6 p.m.

In Pontoon Beach, the ballot will carry the names of only one candidate for each of the top two offices. But organized write-in campaigns are being conducted by two women candidates.

Incumbent Mayor Floyd Moss is seeking re-election to that office, opposed by Mrs. Lillian Singer in a write-in campaign.

Mrs. Mary Warren is seeking election as Pontoon Beach clerk on Moss' ticket. She is opposed by Mrs. Lois Henke as a write-in candidate.

Neither Mrs. Singer's or Mrs. Henke's name will appear on the ballot.

Three of the four candidates seeking election as village board trustees are running as the Village Improvement Progressive Party headed by Moss. They are Loren Madison, an incumbent member of the Village Board, Duane Skinner, the present village treasurer, and Keith Biggs.

The fourth candidate, running as an independent, is Ross Rochester, an incumbent member of the board.

Pontoon Beach voters will ballot at only one village polling place—the Long Lake

Park vote tomorrow

Granite City Park District voters will ballot Tuesday on the election of one park commissioner—a post sought by a field of four candidates.

Polling places in the park district, whose boundaries are the same as those of the city with a few slight variations, will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Ballots will be cast in three polling locations.

Four candidates seeking the single commissioner post on the five-man Park Board include Jack Hood, 2809 Madison Ave.; Richard Reinhardt, 1811 Venice Ave.; Nicholas J. Ryan, 3240 Dodge Ave., and George H. Sykes, 3524 Johnson Road.

A fifth candidate's name, that of Ronald Dillard, will appear on the ballot, but Dillard has announced he has withdrawn from the race and is not actively seeking election.

The Park Board post which is to be filled in tomorrow's election is that formerly held by former Board Member Paul H. Thompson who resigned in August 1974 when

Special meeting on sewer replacement

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A plan by which Granite City will seek federal funding to replace broken sanitary sewer lines in the Nameoki area with new sewers will be presented to the City Council in a special meeting at 6:30 p.m. today.

The special council meeting was called by Mayor Paul Schuler following a Friday conference in Springfield with officials of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The EPA officials advanced the funding plan as a possible solution for Granite City's mounting sewer problems.

Schuler told the Press-Record that the plan involves the filing of applications for "amendment" of the city's original petitions for federal funds to construct the secondary sewage treatment plant, which now is being built adjacent to the city's primary treatment plant on the Granite City Army Installation grounds.

The mayor said the possibility of obtaining additional funds to replace sanitary sewers as a new phase of the original grant for the treatment plant construction was advanced Friday by Richard Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA.

"It would involve an amendment to our original funding application under which the treatment plant grant would be increased to include funds for installing sewer lines," the mayor said. Granite City received a federal grant of $8.9 million for construction of the secondary sewage plant.

Mayor Schuler said he will ask the council in its special meeting tonight for authorization to "sign application and agreement forms necessary to the amendment procedure, and for funds to finance a 'cost analysis' study to determine approximately the amount of money needed to undertake the sewer replacements."

Attending the conference with EPA Director Briceland Friday, with Schuler, were City Engineer Monroe Brewer, Dr. Robert Koopke of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who is directing a study of Granite City water tables; Al

Wilmarth of the Southwestern Illinois Regional Metropolitan Planning Commission; and John Rose, administrative assistant to the mayor. Schuler said the meeting was arranged by State Rep.

Venice incumbents lose

JOHN BOUSHARD

CHARLES BURGER

Two new members were elected to the Venice School Board on Saturday—John Boushard and Charles Burger.

Boushard received 452 votes and Burger 364 to defeat four other candidates for two three-year board terms.

Eddie Lee Salmond received 214 votes, Miss Annie Mosby 212, Fred Rumpf 155 votes and Willie C. Johnson, 102.

The two positions decided Saturday had been held by Rumpf, a board member for nine and a half years, and Johnson, who had served on the board for the past six years.

Boushard totaled 445 votes at the Venice School Improvement Association. Burger 359 and five, Salmond 27 and 187, Miss Mosby 23 and 189, Rumpf 151 and four and Johnson, 94 and eight votes.

There were 41 spoiled ballots—17 at the Venice School polling place and 24 at Eagle Park.

In the past several years there have been repeated school board rejections by Venice voters.

Boushard, a Granite City Steel employee, cited "poor communications between the school district and the parents" during the pre-election campaign.

Burger, Venice city fire marshal and an employee of the Amtrak railroad system, also cited communications as an issue and pledged "to avoid any tax raise unless deemed absolutely necessary."

Allen has been charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, careless driving and involuntary manslaughter.

Miss Porter was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner William Sternberg.

The Allen auto was found by police stopped halfway through the intersection of Seventh Street and Washington Avenue, Madison.

Governor to sign tax relief for aged

Gov. Dan Walker announced Friday he will sign senior citizen tax relief bills on which the House and Senate took final action Thursday.

The governor announced his intention to sign the legislation in a speech at Chicago to the Illinois Association of Homes for the Aging.

The new tax relief legislation (Senate Bills 62-63) provides increased benefits in two ways.

1. It expands the circuit breaker program for elderly and disabled people who rent their homes and apartments by increasing the portion of rent payment counted as property tax from 25 percent to 30 percent. Since the circuit breaker formula is figured on property taxes, this would result in a larger rebate for renters.

2. It provides a grant ranging from $50 to $100 for every elderly or disabled person except those earning over $10,000 a year.

Both programs are effective retroactively to last year.

The bill passed both houses in a form that is improved over the earlier version, in Gov. Walker's opinion.

He said the original bill that he vetoed left it unclear whether elderly people on public aid could receive the new grants, and it seemed to exclude elderly and disabled people living in nursing homes, institutions and public

The Press-Record also was cited for photography, third place; makeup of the newspaper; and honorable mention; and local news coverage, honorable mention. Awards were announced at the 79th spring meeting of the SIEA, oldest organization of newspaper editors and publishers in this state. The meeting took place at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, on Thursday and Friday.

Contest divisions were for semi-weekly, large weekly, small weekly and daily newspapers.

Travel theme for GCS women's club

Colorful travel posters showing countries and cities throughout the world, trinkets from overseas and a Polynesian dinner were part of the Granite City Steel Women's Association dinner scene last week at the GCS General Office Building cafeteria.

An election of officers was held and Jerry Dublar from the Production Control department was named president. She will succeed Mrs. Peggy Solberger.

"Come Travel With Us," the program theme, was reflected in the table appointments and room decor. Green, white and yellow placemats embossed with travel maps were used. Tables were centered with miniature buses, trains, ships and airplanes, denoting forms of travel, and favors presented each member were flight bags, pens, calendars, matches, litter bags and travel brochures.

The 6 o'clock dinner, prepared by the GCS cafeteria staff, consisted of Polynesian ribs, sweet 'n sour cabbage, rice and coconut cream pie. Virginia Johnson gave the invocation.

Don Watson of the Creative Travel Agency was the guest speaker. His talk focused on various methods of travel and the services provided by travel agencies.

Mrs. Solberger presided at the business session.

Others elected to serve in the next club year are: Shirley Schwendemann, Traffic department, vice-president; Genelle May, Industrial Relations, corresponding secretary; Juanita Stadjuhar, Security, recording secretary; and Glenda Moore, Medical department, treasurer.

Julie Barnea, program chairman, was assisted in planning the evening by Jene Lybarger, Wanda MacDonough, June Nikovich and Mary Jo Paulett.

Winning prizes were Ruth Thorsberry, Doris Hinnen, Vivian Plaugher, Elsie Hawk, Perma Boyer, Mary Stagle and Geraldine Robinson, who received a basket of daisies.

APRIL BRIDE. Mrs. William E. Spence, the former Miss Jo Ann Delach, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delach, 5117 Eastgate Ave., Washington Park, was married Saturday afternoon at St. Martin of Tours Church.

Spence-Delach nuptials at St. Martin of Tours

Miss JoAnn Delach, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delach, 5117 Eastgate Ave., Washington Park, and William E. Spence, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Spence, 125 Ridgemoor, Edwardsville, were united in marriage at 3:30 Saturday afternoon at St. Martin of Tours Church.

A reception was held at Croatian Home in Madison.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Walter MacPherson.

The bride wore a full length gown created with an oval yoke of delicate lace motifs. The motifs were repeated at the neckline, accenting a pleated stand-up ruffle, and a small satin ribbon defined the high rise waistline. Matching lace appliques enhanced the long, full sheer sleeves.

She wore a satin headband to hold in place her bouffant veil, bordered with scalloped lace, and she carried a crescent bouquet of roses and greenery. Miss Mary Delach, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Mark Leonard attended the groom as best man.

A graduate of St. Teresa Academy in East St. Louis, the former Miss Delach is now employed as a secretary for American Smelting and Refining Co.

The groom is a graduate of Richard King High School in Corpus Christi, Tex. He served four years in the U. S. Air Force and presently is a senior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Secretaries hear SIUE information director

Mrs. Annette Graebe, coordinator-director of the University Information Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was the guest speaker at the April dinner of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, at Charlie's Restaurant.

The speaker, an instructor in the Department of Speech and Theater in the SIUE School of Fine Arts, presented the topic "The Study of Silent Messages."

Mrs. Graebe gave several examples of "body language," commenting that people communicate non-verbally with their eyes, facial expressions, hands and arms and the way they walk and sit. She explained that a "gesture cluster" is a group of gestures that produce a single effect.

Following the program, a business meeting was held with Mrs. Salley Gracey, president, in charge. Reports were given by the Chapter officers and chairmen of standing committees.

Mrs. Lena Randolph reported Secretaries Week will be celebrated April 20-26.

Guests scheduled to include: Sunday, April 20, mass at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows; Monday, April 21, "Be Nice to Boss Day"; Tuesday, April 22, FSA members will spend a day in an office; Wednesday, April 23, "Catch Your Breath Day"; Friday, April 25, luncheon at Missouri Athletic Club; and Saturday, April 26, a "surprise." A letter from President Gerald Ford proclaiming Secretaries Week was read to the chapter.

Reports were given on the Future Secretaries Association (FSA) chapters at the Granite City, Madison and Breese high schools. The Breese chapter made a trip through a St. Louis business office; the Granite City chapter toured the Shasta Bottling Co., and the Madison chapter had a hairstylist as a speaker at a meeting. Many FSA members attended a seminar in March at Bloomington. FSA members have been invited to the May 1 meeting of the Tri-Cities chapter at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Beth Wilton and Miss Connie Lager, new associate members, were presented pins. Both are business education teachers at the Breese High School where they serve as FSA sponsors. The Illinois Division meeting will be held in Champaign May 16, 17 and 18. About half of the local chapter's membership plan to attend.

Guests present were Linda Fonsler and Liz Setzer, who are secretaries for the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) at the Belleville and Granite City offices, respectively.

Election of 1975-76 officers will highlight the May meeting.

Jr. Bay View installs

Newly elected officers of the Junior Bay View Reading Club were formally installed at a dinner meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Those installed for the 1975-76 club year, were: Mrs. Marge O'Neill, president; Mrs. Sharon Loftus, vice-president; and Mrs. Marguerite Lexow, secretary-treasurer.

Green and yellow, the club colors, were carried out in the table appointments. A centerpiece of yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's breath was used with yellow candles in crystal holders. Favors were green mint cups.

The annual event was planned by the retiring president, Mrs. Alice Hunsinger, Mrs. Clova Taylor and Mrs. Shirley Rapoff.

Mrs. Hunsinger read an invitation to the senior organization's luncheon and book review on May 8 at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

Games were directed by the hostesses and prizes were awarded to all.

Others present were Mesdames Mildred Jungels, Peggy Koerber, Ann Little and Helen Matson.

Members will attend the Plantation Dinner There in May, it was announced.

Ordinances clarify GC appointments

Ordinances giving the Granite City mayor the right to appoint the chiefs of the police and the fire departments, "with the advice and consent of the City Council," were approved unanimously by the City Council last week.

The ordinances were drafted to clarify any confusion on the appointments which have been caused when the city adopted the Board of Fire and Police Commissioner's Act, according to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

"The effect of these ordinances makes my last appointments official," he added. Police Chief Ronald Veizer and Fire Chief Don Parente were appointed by Schuler, in 1973 and were confirmed by the council.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward inquired about the status of plans for a system to improve drainage along a four-block stretch of Franklin Avenue.

Planned is the installation of a

27-inch drainage line between Amos and Cottage avenues which is anticipated to cost about $42,000. Plans are to use federal revenue sharing and motor fuel tax funds for the work.

Brewer was requested by the council March 17 to begin an immediate engineering study of the area and to prepare specifications for bidding.

Brewer said he is gathering field drawings, but the existing drainage and the grades necessary to meet with a new sewer which will accept some of the water still must be checked. He also said specifications for catch basins and other facilities still are being prepared. Only after all of that work has been completed can "a true engineer's estimate" of the cost be made.

Without a true engineer's estimate, the council would not know whether bids received were within reason for the work, it was indicated.

Dawes asked if the council could give Brewer authority to release the specifications for bidding as soon as they are completed and Schuler commented, "We've waited this long. I think we can wait another week or two."

Second Ward Alderman Frank Greenwald told the council he hopes to begin negotiations and talks this week or next with unions representing city employees.

Clyde "Boss" Boyd, alderman of the Third Ward, told council members the differences between the city and the county precinct boundaries presents problems each election as many residents have difficulties determining where they are to vote.

"Some precincts are split in two and others even in three, and it is ridiculous," Boyd told the council.

He recommended that Schuler form a special committee to study the precinct boundaries and make recommendations on changes to the City Council.

Alderman Dawes asked the attorney why a proposed ordinance requiring drive-through restaurants to close at midnight had not been brought before the council.

He said he had requested that the ordinance be drafted some time ago, but it never had been presented. Several aldermen expressed dissatisfaction with Dawes' attempts to close a drive-through restaurant at midnight, but they allowed the request to stand that the attorney prepare the ordinance.

The council accepted a bid from Ernest Trawick, 2414 Iowa St., of $1,213 for property at 2428 Iowa St. The property had been condemned and a house on the site was demolished by the city.

Three sets of bids for the sale of the property were opened before the bid from Trawick, which was sufficient to pay for back taxes on the property, plus the cost of demolishing the house, was accepted.

Alderman Walter Nonn of the TEACHERS' CENTER CONSIDERED. The possibility of starting a new area teachers' center to serve public and parochial schools in the Madison County area is being explored by area superintendents and administrative personnel with Thomas O'Brien, associate professor of elementary education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and director of the Area Teachers' Center Project. Those meeting with O'Brien include (from the left): William Snajdr, principal of Leclaire School in Edwardsville; O'Brien;

Harold Finn, administrative assistant, Wood River-East Alton School District 14; Raymond Dragich, assistant superintendent, and Harold "Gene" Briggs, superintendent, of the Madison County educational service region. SLUE has sponsored an area teachers' center in Belleville since 1972. According to O'Brien, the center consists of "continuing collaborative meetings by teachers and administrators to consider curriculum development and research concerned with young children's thinking."

Fifth Ward had a disagreement with an official of the city's humane department and alleged the humane department has been taking care of two dogs belonging to Granite City policemen at the shelter for some time, free of charge.

The humane department official said one of the dogs belonged to a policeman who had been in the hospital and the other was for sale.

Nonn objected to keeping a dog for sale at the shelter and advertising the sale on the official bulletin board. The official denied having the advertisement on the board.

Nonn further charged that many animals are not being kept the required four days before being given away or killed. He inquired how one woman's cat, which he said had been seen in the shelter, had disappeared within two days of its capture.

The alderman further took issue with the shelter being closed from noon to 1 p.m. each day, despite the building being manned by eight employees. "I think you should keep it open at lunchtime when people may come looking for their pets," the alderman said.

The mayor said he would order a check into the operation of the humane shelter and any problems noted would be corrected.

Ecology study shows slight river impact by power plants

A four-year ecological study of the Illinois River sponsored by Illinois Power Co. and Central Illinois Public Service Co. has shown that thermal energy discharged from utility power plants "has very little impact upon the ecology of that river."

The study has been conducted by WAPORA, Inc., a Washington-based research and consulting firm in pollution control, and included sampling of the river near the IP Havana and Hennepin generating stations.

The final report based on four years of data collection by qualified aquatic scientists states, "there are no trends indicating that the thermal discharge was detrimental to the fish community."

With regard to biological aspects of the study, it was reported, "for the overall phytoplankton community, if an increase in mortality actually existed, it was so slight that no effect on the aquatic ecosystem was probable." further, "rotifers were the predominant zooplankton organisms sampled and their abundance generally varied with that of the total population."

A diversity of rotifer species signifies an ecologically healthy body of water, the WAPORA experts told IP officials at the final report meeting.

The report concludes with the statement, "considering the results from all areas of investigation, no substantial evidence was found to indicate detrimental effects to the aquatic ecosystem as a result of the discharge of thermal effluents from a power generating station."

This study performed by a world-recognized group of competent aquatic biologists and zoologists shows without a doubt that thermal discharges from power plants are not detrimental to the ecological health of the receiving body of water." Wendell E. Miller, manager of Environmental Affairs for IP said.

"In every case, the greatest number of fish were found in the heated effluent discharged from the power plant."

Gen. John Sterling new Troop Support commander

The Headquarters Army Troop Support Command, (TROSCOM), St. Louis, has a new commander. Brigadier General John E. Sterling has assumed command following a brief change of command ceremony.

Major General Hugh R. Higgins, who has headed the local Army Materiel Command agency since December 1972, will command the Defense Construction Supply Center in Columbus, Ohio.

General and Mrs. Sterling live at the Granite City Army Installation and General Higgins is a former resident there.

Under Gen. Higgins, TROSCOM, which employs 2,000 area civil service and military personnel, achieved major improvements to facilities and implemented the Army's standard automated logistics program.

As chairman of the St. Louis Federal Executive Board, Gen. Higgins coordinated many community assistance projects involving action by all local federal agencies. The Federal agencies contribution to the combined Fund Campaign rose this past year to $452,000.

The FEB's recent Gift of Life

Campaign involving an appeal for kidney donors gained 5,000 pledges. Another program initiated under Gen. Higgins' leadership is the support to the area's office on aging to improve referral services for assistance to the elderly.

General Sterling, who has served TROSCOM as deputy commander since August 1973, is a native of Colorado, Springs. Prior to his assignment to this area, he was director of Site Activation at the Safeguard Systems Command at Huntsville, Ala. He is a West Point graduate and registered professional civil engineer.

During his service in Vietnam in 1969-70, Engineering units under his command performed combat support, airfield construction, land clearing and operational support missions.

Gen. Sterling's awards and decorations include: the Legion of Merit with clusters, the Air Medal with clusters, Army Commendation Medal, Senior Parachutist Badge, Army General Staff Badge and the Vietnam Service Medal with four campaign stars. He also holds numerous Republic of Vietnam honorary awards.

Heads hospital plan council

Ted Eilerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Hospital, has been elected president of the Southwest Illinois Hospital Planning Council.

Membership in this council consists of 17 hospitals in the Region IV area, which includes Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Monroe, Randolph, Washington and Bond Counties.

Purpose of the council is to first study, promote and implement sound areawide health services as related to area hospitals; second, to develop cooperative planning among member hospitals in order to insure the maximum hospital services consistent with economic delivery to all consumers; third, to provide effective unified assistance for those duly authorized agencies working in the health and health planning fields.

Fourth, to be recognized by all agencies concerned as the official hospital planning council; fifth, to interpret to the citizens of the community the services available for the care of the sick and increase their knowledge and understanding of such services.

According to Eilerman, the member hospitals want "to show that they can plan, on a voluntary basis, without having it mandated by the government."

Eilerman also has been selected as chairman of the acute care task force and member of the project review committee of the Alliance for Regional Community Health Services.

This group consists of all health care facilities in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties in Illinois and St. Louis, St. Louis County, Franklin, Jefferson and St. Charles County in Missouri. This group reviews any significant changes in services in health care facilities.

It reviews any new proposed projects on the basis of need — can the facility be adequately staffed and operated, is it economically feasible without unreasonable increase, will the project foster cost containment? Health care facilities in the area must have this group's approval to receive federal funds under Medicare, Medicaid, Maternal and Infant Care, Eilerman said. Eilerman also has received appointment to the planning committee of the Illinois Hospital Association. This group presently will be concerned with designation of health services areas under the new National Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974.

Bought term papers 'immoral'

As the first sprig of crabgrass appears in campus lawns, another equally disturbing pest creeps into the lives of college professors — the threat of purchased term papers by their students.

Many university professors get hot under the collar when they read that term papers are being offered for sale in local and student newspapers. "They are undercutting the educational process in an immoral, unethical parasitical fashion," Stanley Kimball, professor of historical studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said.

Kimball said that students who use the services of the term paper firms are cheating themselves and should automatically fail. Why do college students stoop to buying commercially written research papers? Kimball said it is because of laziness on the part of the student or lack of training in his school on how to do papers.

"As far as I know, I have never had a student buy one," Kimball said. However, to avoid that possibility, he insists that his students turn in all of their notes and drafts along with the final copy of their term paper.

Other instructors combat the evil of purchased papers by requiring their students to turn in several short papers instead of the usual one long paper.

"Any experienced professor ought to be able to spot a purchased paper. Any experienced professor ought to know his students' work," Kimball said.

Although Kimball is not worried about being fooled, he is afraid for students "in a pinch" who might be tempted to buy a mail order term paper. The damage is already done by the time the paper gets to the professor. The student has already shortchanged himself," Kimball said.

As for students or instructors who might think about making a fast buck by selling their own work to commercial firms, Kimball said, "Teachers who would sell their work to firms are no better than the students who buy them. They are no way different and should be fined when apprehended."

13 don'ts for gardening

By CHRIS DOLL

Area Garden Advisor

Gardeners are optimists and at this time of year are thinking positively about the coming growing season. But optimist or pessimist, it's easy to say don't; so here are 13 don'ts for gardening in 1975.

1. Don't try to grow vegetables on a lot that is too poor to make a good growth of weeds or grass. Good soils make for good gardens.

2. Don't spade, plow, or cultivate soil that is too wet. Working on puddling wet soils will destroy soil structure for the rest of summer. This causes poor plant growth and difficult cultivation.

3. Don't apply too much lime. A soil test is the only method of determining how much lime your garden needs.

4. Don't run the rows up and down a slope. Running the row parallel with the slope conserves moisture and prevents erosion from occurring.

5. Don't plant seeds, roots, or tubers too deeply. The rule of thumb for planting depth is 4 to 6 times the diameter of the seed.

6. Don't sow seeds too thickly. Most crops do best with adequate space and over-seeding means more thinning work.

7. Don't guess at the amounts of fertilizer to apply per acre of land. Although there are safety limits in recommended rates, accurate application rates are best.

8. Don't let fertilizer come in contact with the seeds or plants. Mix it with the soil before planting.

9. Don't cultivate deeply enough to injure the shallow roots of the vegetables. Cultivations are basically for weed control and crust-busting and need not be deep.

10. Don't let the weeds get big before you try to destroy them. Staying ahead of weeds is the secret to success.

11. Don't apply water in numerous light sprinklings, but water thoroughly about once a week if rainfall is deficient.

12. Don't forget to obtain the necessary dusting or spraying equipment and materials early in the spring — before you need them. The pests will be waiting for the early crops and you need to be prepared.

13. Don't let the vegetables become too old before harvesting them, thereby losing high quality. Pithy radishes, over-sized squash, and mature beans don't add much to the quality of life.

Asparagus is a perennial vegetable crop that ushers spring to the gardener's table.

Asparagus is ready for harvest when the spears are 6 to 8 inches long. They can be cut off at the base with a knife or they can be snapped off by hand. All of the snapped spear is edible and there is no effect on the plant from harvesting in this manner.

The harvest season can last for six to eight weeks from old established plantings. Don't harvest from one and two-year-old plantings, and make only a few pickings from a three-year-old planting.

Yields can be increased with pre-harvest application of fertilizer. Apply one to two pounds of garden fertilizer per 100 square feet. Repeat the fertilizer application again after the last harvest.

If you are starting a new planting, buy healthy, large crowns. These should be planted as soon as possible. A wide trench or furrow should be six to eight inches deep (deeper if compost or manure is buried below the plants). Set the crowns 12 inches apart at the six to eight inch depth.

Cover them with about two inches of soil at planting time, and gradually fill the trench with soil during the remainder of the season. Keep the weeds controlled to reduce competition and apply fertilizer annually and you will enjoy table fresh asparagus for years to come.

Sues for $75,000

Earl Middleton has filed a two-count suit, seeking $75,000 in each count, in Madison County Circuit Court, against the Norfolk and Western Railway.

Middleton alleged that he was injured while employed as a switchman, when he attempted to release a railroad car brake on Sept. 30, 1973, and again on Dec. 24, 1973, when he allegedly fell from a ladder.

Distribute settlements from price-fixing suit

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott announced last week that checks totaling $406,458 have been mailed to 68 Illinois public hospitals that participated in a $4.5 million price-fixing, anti-trust suit settlement obtained by Scott's office against five major drug manufacturers and distributors of the antibiotic drug tetracycline.

The largest refunds will go to Cook County Hospital, $146,221; the State Treasury of Illinois, $95,640; and the University of Illinois hospitals, $29,165.

The five drug firms repaying Illinois purchasers are: Charles Pfizer and Company, Inc.; Delaware corporation; American Cyanamid Company, a Maine corporation; Bristol-Myers Company, a Delaware corporation; Olin-Matheson Chemical Corporation, a Virginia corporation referred to in Scott's suit as the producer of "Squibb" products, and The Upjohn Company, a Michigan corporation.

In the original attorney general's suit, the firms were accused of selling tetracycline capsules which cost 1.6 cents to manufacture at prices as high as 40 cents. In the suit, Attorney General Scott represented the state's individual consumers as well as its public hospitals.

Approximately $1.5 million of the total recovery realized in the $4.5 million settlement has already gone to reimburse individual consumers who had previously filed claims based on their purchases of the drug from 1954 through 1966. The settlement was the largest in the history of Illinois antitrust legislation, Scott pointed out.

The Madison County Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Edwardsville received $129 and Wood River Township Hospital in Wood River was granted $3,623.

Recreational vehicle plates changed to calendar year

Recreational vehicles will be changed from a fiscal to a calendar year registration period on Jan. 1, 1976.

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett notes that the amendment to the Illinois Vehicle Code was approved last year by the 78th General Assembly.

To implement the change, Secretary Howlett has announced that nearly 100,000 pre-printed renewal applications have been mailed to owners of recreational vehicles for the registration period July 1 through Dec. 31.

A half-year registration fee is required for the six-month fiscal period. In November, special pre-print renewals will be mailed to recreational vehicle owners for 1976 calendar registrations. Secretary Howlett said all applications received from this mailing will be processed as reassignments.

Howlett said the current reassignment period for recreational and other second division vehicles runs through April 30.

Deadline for displaying 1975-76 fiscal year plates is midnight, June 30. The change in registration periods affects recreational camper shells, vehicles and trailers.

warned legislators last week, "Illinois is losing jobs in manufacturing at a rate almost double that of national manufacturing job loss."

"Since 1967, a total of 87,000 Illinois manufacturing jobs have been lost, with over 195 plants employing 20 or more leaving the state."

TMA's president included in his letter the consensus views of member firms as to why Illinois is losing manufacturing jobs, as well as quotes from companies which had expanded operations in other states. These were the key reasons, as reported to the Illinois General Assembly:

"Illinois is increasingly a high-cost state for manufacturers, including high wage rates and alleged low productivity from union-dominated labor forces."

"The tax burden is regarded as heavy compared to other states, particularly considering local real and personal property taxes. In Chicago, soaring real property taxes and the $3 per month per employee taxes on employers have increased some employers' taxes by 85 per cent in the past year."

dispute, and similar types of legislation demanded by organized labor will make it more costly and difficult for a manufacturer to stay in Illinois."

Proposals for a change in the state constitution to allow permit wage increases in corporate income tax rates are taken seriously by industry, and compare starkly with tax incentives in other states for industry to expand and provide jobs."

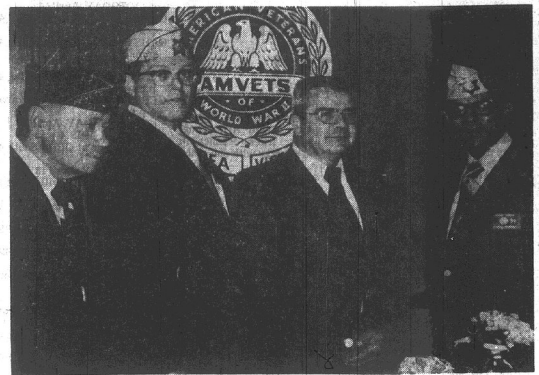

"State and local laws and regulations are making it more and more difficult and costly to operate a manufacturing enterprise in Illinois, even though they are all well intentioned. Environmental protection efforts in Illinois have the list of employer complaints in the regulatory field. Most multi-state employers feel that Illinois has excessively strict environmental standards, and that it has the most cumbersome and costly enforcement system, and the least cooperative attitude of any of the states."

Noting that manufacturing plants and jobs provide the backbone of the state's economy, Bergen told the legislators:

"Rank and file workers can be served in no better way by you than to be assured of the security of their future jobs in Illinois and the possibility of job advancement."

"Nor can you better serve all of your constituents than to seek to assure, by your actions and votes, that the economic and governmental environment in Illinois will be one in which industry can thrive, and jobs protected and created."

Choral music to recall history of 3 centuries

Choral music representative of this continent's past 240 years (1736-1975) will be presented by the Concert Chorus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the group's annual spring concert tour April 16-20.

Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, associate professor of music, the Chorus will present five concerts and make visits to historic shrines in three states, beginning in Belleville and ending in Overland Park, Kan.

Each concert program, planned as "a prelude to the nation's 1976 bicentennial celebration," will be climaxed by Van Camp's arrangement of "A Cry for Freedom," the music of William Billings. The choral music will be accompanied by a slide presentation produced by the audio visual service at SIUE.

Granite Cityans in the Chorus are Alicia Henderson, Cindy Johnson, Robin Nunn, John Pierson, Gerrie Pinkerton, Mary Ann Sporic and Mary Turley.

The tour itinerary includes: Wednesday—Zion Lutheran Church, 1810 McClintock Ave., Belleville, 8:15 p.m.

Thursday—Presbyterian Church, Fourth and Market Streets, Washington, Mo., 8 p.m.

Friday—Hickman High School, 1104 North Providence Rd., Columbia, Mo., 8 p.m.

Saturday—St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 65th and Santa Fe Dr., Overland Park, Kan., 8 p.m.

And Sunday—Valley View United Methodist Church, 9405 Woodward, Overland Park, Kan., 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. worship services.

The second half of the program, "A Cry for Freedom," will be presented tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Communications Building (near the SIUE campus).

The slides will be presented by John Culich, staff artist for University Graphics, and narration will be by John Rider, professor of mass communications at SIUE.

Van Camp said the first half of the concert program, covering the period 1736 to 1975, will include songs "from our European heritage, our national hymn, a colonial hymn, our national anthem, our Southern heritage, a Stephen Foster ballad, a Civil War song, a sea chanty, a suffragette song, a Guy Nineties medley, a temperance song, a World War I song, 'sounds of today' and a spiritual."

The Concert Chorus is a group of 60 singers chosen by auditions in the spring and summer.

Now in its tenth season, the Chorus has performed with nationally prominent orchestras and has been featured on national television. In the summer of 1974, the Chorus took first place in the 11th Annual International Chorus Competition in Spittal, Austria.

Low bids on SIUE heating plant expansion

Low bidders on three major items of equipment for a heating and refrigeration plant expansion project at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were reported to the SIUE Board of Trustees on Thursday.

Bids were opened by the Illinois Capital Development Board (CDB) on March 27, and the information was reported to the SIUE trustees by President John S. Rendleman. The bids are:

Carrier, Inc.—1,600-ton electrical centrifugal chiller and one 800-ton electrical centrifugal chiller, $198,914.

International Boiler, Inc.—60-million BTU high temperature hot water generator, $205,000.

The manufacturers promised delivery of the chillers in 36 weeks and the generator in 41 weeks.

Total improvements at the heating and refrigeration plant are expected to cost $1.5 million. Funds for the project were released to the CDB by the governor's office last October. Other items are expected to be let for bids in the next few weeks, President Rendleman reported.

Football popular television sport

Football has the largest television viewing audience now of any sport, Ray Sonnenberg, a head linesman for the National Football League, told Thursday's meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club.

Sonnenberg, executive director of the East St. Louis Kiwanis Club, is a former captain of the St. Louis University Billiken basketball team and starred on the Collinsville Kahoks high school cage squad.

A Belleville alderman, he also is a past president of the East St. Louis Rotary Club. "An NFL official for nine years, Sonnenberg said that he has been 'lucky to survive this long,' as a referee's performance is rated by four different persons at each game.

"All the NFL officials are really good, but to stay in, you have to be more lucky than good," he said. When asked about instant TV replays, Sonnenberg said, "I personally think it has helped more than hurt. The instant replay has done much to raise the level of officiating. No one feels worse over a bad call than the officials themselves."

Sonnenberg also spoke to the Kiwanis members about the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, which he said has a positive influence on today's youth.

"Athletics teach a youth a lot, and we in the NFL try to show them that Christ is an important part of their lives."

"FCA was started about 16 years ago by two men, one being the late Branch Rickey. It now has a membership of over 100,000."

"I would like to ask that the Kiwanis Club in Granite City consider starting an FCA in your high schools. There are 26 in the St. Louis area, including two in Belleville."

Protestant Welfare dinner Tuesday night

The Rev. C. Dale Edwards, pastor of First Assembly of God, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, will be the speaker at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Protestant Welfare Association's annual dinner. Educated at North Central Bible College, Minneapolis, Minn., where he received a B.A. in theology, the Rev. Edwards began his pastoral duties at the Granite City church last June.

Previously, he served pastorates since 1955 in Minnesota, South Dakota and Illinois. In the fellowship of the Assemblies of God Churches he has served in such capacities as presbyter, state youth director, Bible college board member and on the National Committee on Christian Education.

The Rev. Edwards has held

"I am certain you will find Christian coaches in the area willing to devote time to help the youth," Norm Armstrong, one of our track coaches in Belleville, works with one of the groups.

Twenty-five of the 26 teams in the NFL hold Sunday services regularly for the team and staff.

"We have hundreds of top-draw athletes active in FCA. Jim Hart and Bart Starr not only are good quarterbacks, but top-draw Christians."

"When you have men like Paul Anderson, Jerry Stovall, Terry Bradshaw—and I could go on giving you names of others who are active in FCA—I know there are those who would be interested here in Granite City," Sonnenberg concluded.

Defensive driving and how it may save a person's life were also discussed by Tom Lybarger, safety education officer for Illinois State Police District 11.

He defined defensive driving as "the ability to drive in a manner to prevent accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others or in the presence of adverse driving conditions."

The officer explained that a defensive driving course is available to licensed drivers. It is an eight-hour course that may be sponsored by any club.

The troopers were aided by a member of the Kiwanis Club. "Has the 55 mile per hour speed limit cut down on the number of traffic accidents?"

Lybarger replied that the number of collisions is about the same, but the severity and number of deaths have decreased.

He concluded that many accidents are alcohol and drug related, and that most traffic mishaps could be prevented.

Trojan track and field athletes earned 85 1-3 points last week, capturing a triangular meet held at Madison High School with Triad and St. Paul of Highland. Triad was second with 75-4 points and St. Paul had 18 1/2 points.

Madison Coach Charles Steptoe said the fractional points resulted from ties for second, third and fourth place in some events.

Headed by Joe Young and Mike Williams, Madison won 15 events and placed well in all but the mile run, two mile run and pole vault.

"Even in winning," noted Steptoe, "we are still weak in those three events."

Trojan point earners were: 440-yard relay—Young, Tyrone, Burdett, Alfred Crawford, Lamont Garrett 1st (1:44.3).

mile relay—Daryl Hampton, Terrell, Brooks, Garrett 1st (3:56.4); discus—Derek Maple 1st (43.3); Booker 4th; long jump—Prothro 1st (18-7); Crawford 3rd; high jump—Rodney Williams 1st (5-6); Robert DeLoach tied 4th.

Earning points also for Madison were: 440 yard relay—Garrett, Joe Young, Tyrone Burdett, Von Dee Walker 2nd (47.9); 120 high hurdles—Mike Williams 2nd, Mike Terrell 4th; 100 dash—Young 1st (16.4); 200 dash—Young 2nd; 220 dash—Young 2nd.

Discus—Maple 3rd; long jump—Walker 3rd; triple jump—Leonard Prothro 2nd; and high jump—Rodney Williams 2nd.

Track Kahoks top Trojans

Nothing backward about this Granite Cityan — except his bowling technique

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer

The average bowling enthusiast dreams of rolling a perfect 300 game, and Steve R. Freeman, 19, of 2615 Pine St., also has that goal in the back of his mind.

But Freeman, though he is a bowling enthusiast, cannot be considered an average bowler—at least not in his style of hurling the heavy ball down the lane toward the pins.

A salesman at Graham's Business Products, Freeman has developed a technique of bowling backward.

"I just reversed the bowling process," Freeman shrugs.

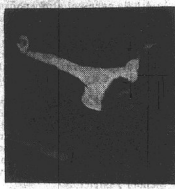

"In bowling forward, a person develops a stance, seeks a mark where he wants the ball to drop—on one of the seven arrows on the wooden lane—keeps his shoulders and arms straight, and then releases the ball.

"The backward process is the same, except that in finding my mark, I key in on one of five small circles located just behind the bowler, if he were facing the pins, that is.

"The dots are aligned with the arrows, which are located about 10 feet down the lane.

"Instead of displaying the palms of my hands upon releasing the ball, the back of my hand is revealed."

Freeman practices his skill on the lanes of Brunswick Trail.

FOLLOW-THROUGH as Richard Freeman bowls backward. He is shown in action here Thursday night.

Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road, where Thursday night he made 13 strikes and picked up 17 spares in five games.

His first game started with three consecutive strikes and ended with a 124 score. This was followed by 135, 144, 144 and 142.

"About three weeks ago," he noted, "I bowled a 171. And according to the Guinness World Record Book, that was a record game."

"In fact, nowhere in the records can be found any mention of my style of bowling."

A 1973 graduate of Maudlin, Mo., High School, Freeman moved to the Quad-Cities the same year and started bowling while a sophomore in school.

He began bowling backward two years ago after becoming tired of the routine of aiming at the pins in the normal fashion.

"My best average bowling forward has been a 160," he relates.

He bowls — forward — twice a week in league competition—Business Men and His and Hers leagues.

Freeman plans to enlist in the U.S. Air Force in June, and has hopes of forming an all-backward bowling team among airmen.

"A perfect game?" he repeats the question.

"That is a feat even many professional bowlers seek to accomplish but fail to do so. I don't expect to hit 300 backward, but I feel I will break 200 soon."

BACKWARD GLANCE by Steve Freeman as he prepares to deliver a bowling ball in his own particular fashion—in reverse.

Baseball Trojans gain first win 9-8

Trojan baseball players Tim Pisk and Dennis Price were credited by Coach Ron Davis with providing key plays last week in Madison High School's 9-8 triumph over the host East St. Louis Flyers.

Madison's first victory in six outings.

Trailing the Flyers 7-5 in the sixth inning, Madison scored two runs on hits by Harold Williams and Steve McCunney, a stolen base and a sacrifice fly off the bat of Joe Gulash to deadlock the contest.

Still in the sixth, Emmitt Timmons tripled and Pisk gave Madison the go-ahead run with a triple to centerfield.

East St. Louis again tied the game in the seventh, but Madison picked up the win when Price got a hit, stole second and third, and scored on a passed ball.

Madison had jumped to a 4-1 first-inning lead in which McCunney got the only hit. An error, three walks, four stolen bases and a sacrifice fly by Cedric Wilson helped account for the scoring.

The Trojans attained a 5-3 margin in the fourth on an in-field error, a stolen base and a hit by McCunney. East St. Louis took the lead with three runs in the fifth inning.

Collecting hits also for Madison were Gulash, Duane Bochantin, Timmons and Kevin Werner.

Williams went the distance on the mound for the win, striking out three Flyers batters and walking five.

East St. Louis had eight hits and both sides committed five errors each.

The Trojans lost both ends of a doubleheader, 16-3 and 9-6, during the weekend at Hillsboro.

Madison collected 12 hits and committed eight errors in the first contest. Hillsboro had 14 hits and five errors.

In the other game, Madison had 11 hits and three errors. Hillsboro collected 14 hits and committed three errors.

Belleville tennis teams beat South

Belleville East netmen played host to GCHS South last week, barely nipping the Warriors 4-3.

GCHS South results were: Singles—Bill Rusick 6-1, 6-0; Mike Papes 6-4, 6-4; Tim Frost 6-4, 6-4; Harold Rose 6-4, 6-4; doubles—Rusick-Frank Milnarec 6-3, 6-3; Papes-Frost 7-6, 6-4; Kevin Worster-Mike Hayes 3-6, 6-7.

South jayvee tennis players defeated the Lancer hosts, 4-1.

Warriors results were: Singles—Andy Hall 10-5, Ron Backs 9-11, Jim Eltmoff 10-6; doubles—Larry Ferrer-Jeff Hagopian 10-4, Jeff Bell-Kevin Harmon 6-4.

Warrior netmen bowled 5-2 to Belleville West in a tennis meet at Wilson Park Tuesday.

Posting wins for South were Bill Rusick 6-1, 6-0 in a singles match and Rusick-Frank Milnarec 6-3, 6-3 in doubles.

Other scores were: Mike Papes 2-6, Tim Frost 6-3, 1-6, 4-6; Harold Rose 2-6, 2-6; Papes-Frost 2-6, 2-6, and Kevin Worster-Mike Hayes 2-6, 4-6.

Illinois high school tourneys restricted to boys — or girls

The board of directors of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) has taken action to "guarantee the successful continued growth in the Association's girls athletic activities by exercising its responsibility to conduct state tournament series for members of the sex for which the series is designed."

4 here capture jr. judo titles

Four Granite City youths earned individual championships last week in a Florissant Valley Junior College junior judo tournament.

The four, representing the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, are: Robert Roberts, lightweight, age 12; John Roberts, lightweight, age 10; Lori Malottki, women's open, ages 14-15; and Eddie Goclan, lightweight, ages 8 and under.

Taking runnerup honors were: Debbie Hendon and Larry Schnellmann. Perry Perdue took third place in lightweight competition for boys ages 9-10.

The youngsters are coached at the local "Y" by Len Fuchs, a first degree black belt, who will compete tomorrow at Chicago in Illinois State YMCA judo championship competition.

The board has passed the following resolution:

"Effective immediately, all IHSA-sponsored athletic state meets and tournaments designed and conducted for boys shall be limited to participation by boys; all IHSA-sponsored athletic state meets and tournaments designed and conducted for girls shall be limited to participation by girls."

Within two years, a total of 12 state tournament series will be conducted for girls in Illinois, while there currently is a total of 11 for boys.

Rules governing all IHSA-sponsored state meets and tournaments—including those in Boys Track and Field, Girls Track and Field, Boys Baseball and Boys Tennis this spring—will stipulate that the activity is limited to participation by the students of the sex for which it is designed.

In making the decision, the board reiterated the Association's philosophy that the provision of separate but comparable opportunities for participation in interscholastic athletics is in the best interests of both boys and girls.

Rationale for taking the action included:

1) "The opportunity to participate in athletic state meets and tournaments is a privilege which the Association is attempting to extend to both boys and girls in its member high schools on an equitable basis.

2) "Sports in which IHSA state meets and tournaments are offered for boys and girls may in some cases be different because of differences in the interests and needs of the boys and girls in member schools.

3) "Sex is a justifiable classification for any IHSA-sponsored athletic competition, since boys as a class have a decided physiological advantage over girls as a class when they compete against girls in virtually every sport.

4) "The IHSA can best achieve the goal of providing equal opportunity for both boys and girls to participate in athletic state tournaments and meet by restricting participation to the sex for which that activity is designed."

UMSL wins doubleheader over Cougars

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougar baseball squad dropped a doubleheader against the University of Missouri, St. Louis, last week at Cougar Field.

UMSL won the first game 4-1, the Cougars' only score coming in the ninth inning when shortstop John Urban drove home Stu Trask, a designated hitter.

The second game went to UMSL 10-4 with SIUE runs scored by Jack Scarborough of Granite City and Tim Twellman, Bob Matzenbacher and Stan Robert.

Sewage in yards, aldermen told

Opposition to a pipe which releases raw sewage into the Nameoki Drainage Ditch near Johnson Road was expressed by several aldermen during the last Granite City Council meeting.

Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward told the council, "Something drastic is going to have to be done. We are going to have to quit dumping raw sewage in the Nameoki Ditch."

"Yards have sewage standing in them and the storm water sewers are becoming filled. It is a health hazard and pollutes the air with stench."

"We must find a way to pump sewage into a sanitary line and not into the ditch," Coleman concluded.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell installed the overflow pipe which drains from a sanitary sewer into the ditch as a "safety valve" during periods of heavy rains when the water seeps into the sanitary sewers through breaks.

He contended it was the lesser of two evils and would keep the sewers from backing up into some homes which do not have shutoff valves.

The overflow pipe has become the symbol of problems in the Nameoki Area caused by rapidly deteriorating sewers.

Alderman Walter Nann of the Fifth Ward noted that sewage enters the ditch from many sources, not just the overflow pipe.

"There are leaks (in sanitary sewers) all along the ditch and the sewage is gradually working up in the ground," he said.

The environmental Protection Agency is recommending treating the sewage before it enters the ditch from an overflow pipe, but only as a temporary measure.

He said treatment of the sewage is a temporary help, but added, "When you've got collapsed sewers, it's going to get worse before it gets better."

"To say you're going to lick it all out there, you're just kidding yourself. If this goes on another year, the ground is going to be so saturated, you're going to have a lot of disease in this area."

Nann recalled a recent visit by Illinois Environmental Protection Agency personnel and commented, "They're very favorable to us. I think they realize the problem we're in."

Sponsored each spring by the Granite City Area Council of PTAs, this year's show will feature outdoor concerts and refreshments, according to Eugene L. Alassi, art consultant for Granite City School District.

The show spotlights art projects from all Granite City schools, with displays provided by students from kindergarten through the 12th grade levels.

Thousands of individual art pieces are exhibited at the event, Alassi noted.

Permission was granted to the Downtown Granite City Restoration Society to hold its second annual house tour and crafts fair May 4 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Parking will be at local churches and transportation is to be by a double-deck bus.

The Disabled American Veterans' post was granted permission to hold its annual Parade of Flags for Memorial Day May 30. The parade will be from the club to the park across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

An excavation permit was approved for Illinois Power Co. to dig in the alley east of the 2100 block of Grand Avenue for a gas line. The work is to be completed this month.

Quad-Cities good place to live, speaker tells Optimists

The Quad-City area is a good place in which to live, work and rear a family, according to Norman Hall, chairman of the Quad-City Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Hall spoke to the Thursday noon meeting of the Optimist Club in the YMCA.

"You people here complain about this area, the air is dirty, prices are high and wages are low. But when you begin to pinpoint the facts and get a person thinking, he generally realizes that the air really isn't that bad, he is making a good salary and there are some fine places to shop in our area," Hall said.

"Our committee wants to get the residents to take a really close look at this area and compare it to other areas. If they do, our citizens will find we have a lot to take pride in," Hall said.

The nominating committee to select a slate of new officers was named. It includes David Fox, President; Dailie, Vice President; Elberman, Secretary; Paul Surbey, Treasurer.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Mertz; one son, William Mertz, and a daughter, Mrs. Douglas (Joylene) Pascoe, both of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Victor (Vera) Wesemann of Troy, Ill., and Mrs. Kenneth (Sadie) Rardin of Hammond, Ind., and three grandchildren.

Higher board ignoring region's need for highly educated professionals—Rendleman

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, reported to the SIUE Board of Trustees Thursday that he is asking the Illinois Board of Higher Education to reject IBHE staff recommendations that proposed graduate programs at SIUE and a proposed cooperative doctorate program between SIUE and Washington University not be approved.

Dr. Rendleman said the IBHE staff has opposed a proposed master of science in biochemistry and clinical biochemistry and a certificate in oral pathology, as well as the proposed cooperative doctorate program in computer science between SIUE and Washington University.

The SIUE president said he has asked the executive director of the IBHE to place the proposed programs on the agenda for the May meeting of the state board.

In regard to the proposed master's program in biochemistry and clinical biochemistry, Dr. Rendleman said, "This proposed program does not duplicate any existing program in the state; it is unique."

"If this program is not approved, citizens of Southwestern Illinois will be deprived in two ways. First, an opportunity for continuing education and career advancement for medical laboratory personnel will be denied. Second, we will lose a program which would provide the badly inadequate health services in the region."

"Both of these deprivations will be imposed on citizens of this area even though no other school has proposed to offer a clinical biochemistry program anywhere in the state or in the St. Louis area."

In regard to the proposed certificate in oral pathology, Dr. Rendleman said, "This specialist program in the School of Dental Medicine would cost only an additional $5,000 per year. It would enroll up to two students, who would work with the two pathologists on the staff of the School of Dental Medicine."

"The addition of these specialized, advanced students to the education program would enhance the quality of education offered to D.M.D. students, and would serve to insure that the pathology staff remains maximally competent."

"The IBHE staff offers no rationale for recommending against approval of this certificate except that, 'The staff is of the opinion that the School should concentrate its resources and the next five years on the expansion of the basic professional (D.M.D.) program, the establishment of off-campus clinical centers for use in the education program, and continuing dental education.'"

"This staff opinion—that specialized and general education in dentistry conflict—is counter to the judgment of dental educators, including that of the IBHE staff's own consultant on dental medicine at SIUE," Dr. Rendleman said. The SIUE president said development of the proposed cooperative doctorate in computer science was begun in 1972 when "the executive director of the Board of Higher Education indicated his desire to have doctoral education at SIUE develop through cooperation with Washington University and St. Louis University."

Dr. Rendleman continued, "A doctoral program in computer science would provide area students with access to employment opportunities in the growing fields of computing and electronic communications, as well as in university teaching.

"The IBHE staff asserts that the program is not needed because the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago already have doctorates in computer science."

"There is no indication of how local students can take advantage of these programs. There is no assessment of academic quality. And there is no response to the demonstrated regional demand for the degree."

"The Illinois Board of Higher Education has stressed the need to avoid duplication in doctoral programs and has urged all institutions to cooperate with each other. This cooperative program meets a demonstrated regional manpower need through association with the only regional institution with a doctoral degree in computer science."

"It sets a precedent for significantly expanding educational opportunity for residents at minimal cost. The needs of citizens of this region for this program will not be met by institutions in Chicago and Urbana."

"It is the view of the university community that these are arbitrary and unjustified limitations of the educational mission of the university."

"Unfortunately, they appear to be part of a pattern of recommendations which deprecate the ability of the university faculty to offer advanced educational opportunities to area residents.

"Worse, they express callous disregard of the needs of area citizens for specialized educational opportunities, and consequently imply that this region does not need highly educated professionals to serve its needs," the SIUE president concluded.

Calvo outlines bill for state to provide all public school funding

Three Downstate lawmakers in the Illinois House have introduced legislation designed to have the state take over all funding of public schools in the state.

Rep. Horace L. Calvo, Democrat of Granite City, Rep. Robert Craig, Democrat of Indianapolis, and Rep. Joseph F. Penney, Democrat of St. Louis, introduced a bill to remove school funding from its historic reliance on the property tax basis of local school districts.

Rep. Calvo told the Press-Record that the legislation, if enacted, would have "a great number of beneficial effects for the people of the state."

He commented, "It will save many school systems from bankruptcy that cannot obtain voter approval for necessary budget increases."

"Secondly, it will offer real relief to small property owners, and those on fixed incomes, who can least afford continued increases in the property taxes."

"It also will help preserve many of our fine old neighborhoods in cities and older towns, because it will help the older residents maintain and keep their homes without the heavy burdens of the property taxes."

"Last, and most importantly, such a law necessary to forestall the impending crisis resulting from the expected Illinois Supreme Court decision on unequal property taxes."

Calvo conceded that his bill is silent on the method of financing necessary to implement the plan. He told the Press-Record that, for this reason, he and Representatives Craig and Penney have proposed an effective date of 1977 for the law.

"Between now and 1977, we will have had a thorough and lengthy revenue study to determine how the budget can stand this increase in school revenues."

"This will entail cuts in some areas of the state budget, but it will also open up new opportunities for local governments—who will be relieved from their present competition with the local school districts for tax dollars. Thus, public services should be improved."

Rep. Calvo concluded by saying that supervision of education is a state responsibility under the 1970 Illinois Constitution, and "the only way to assure equal educational opportunity and quality across the state is to have the money come from a statewide source that does not depend on the property tax for its revenue."

Eagle Park in drive to halt littering on access roads

Residents and businessmen in Eagle Park Acres, an unincorporated community south of Madison, are asking passing motorists and others to stop dumping trash near the area's access roads from Route 203 on the east and Race Street, near Lucile Steel, on the north side.

Eddie Salmond, a Venice Township Precinct 3 committeeman and spokesman for the Eagle Park Improvement Association, said a cleanup campaign currently is being planned by community residents and urged those leaving trash along the entrance roads to halt the practice.

"We are preparing for a big cleanup program within the community and we are asking those people who are making a habit of dumping their refuse here to stop," Salmond said.

The spokesman noted the unsightly mess at either side of the access roads and between the railroad tracks, includes mattresses, plastic bags and paper sacks filled with trash, old appliances, dead animals, household furnishings and other debris.

"Many of the people dumping trash are from outside the Eagle Park area," Salmond said.

He reported also that a group of businessmen is forming an organization to encourage other businesses to locate in Eagle Park, thereby giving a boost to the community, economically and service-wise.

"We need a laundromat desperately, among other new businesses," the association spokesman stated.

St. Peter's Guild elects

Mrs. Helen Kettehult reviewed two books, "How to Stay Young While Growing Older" and "God is a Verb," at last week's meeting of the Evening Guild at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ. An election of officers also was held.

Guild members agreed to purchase the two books for the church library. Mrs. Ruth Ann Bartels presided at the business session.

A proposed fund-raising project to send donations to the "Water for Women" international program was discussed by Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse, Church Women United representative. She said the funds will be used to dig wells in water-starved areas of India and Africa.

Elected as guild officers for 1975-76 were: Mrs. Rittenhouse, president;

Mrs. George Boettger, vice-president; Mrs. Marcia Buenger, secretary and Mrs. Genevieve Grady, treasurer.

Mrs. Thelma Markgraf gave the devotions and closed the meeting with the Fellowship of the Least Coin service.

A new member, Mrs. Lorraine Williams, was welcomed during the social hour. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Laura Taylor, Annabel Patton, Helen Todd, Ruth Brave and Ruth Ann Bartels.

At the May 5 meeting, the Rev. Buck Jones of East St. Louis will be the featured speaker.

UNSATISFIED TRASH, including mattresses, large appliances and dead dogs, lines the roadside for a quarter-mile stretch from Washington Avenue along Race Street, at the south limits of Madison, near the entrance to Eagle Park Acres, an unincorporated area. Eagle Park residents, currently planning a cleanup campaign, are complaining about persons, many from outside the area, who are turning this location and the community's Hare Street access road, off Route 203, into a "dumping ground."

Ease residency rule on tuition

Students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville can qualify for in-state tuition after three consecutive months of residency in Illinois under revised regulations adopted Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

The new regulations will be effective for academic terms beginning after May 1. Currently, 12 consecutive months of residency in Illinois are required to qualify for in-state tuition.

Provision is made for the first time clarifying that university residency rules apply to non-student spouses in cases where a student seeks in-state tuition based on legal residence in the state by a non-student spouse.

The new regulations also include clarifying provisions concerning tuition status of armed forces personnel stationed outside Illinois who were Illinois residents upon entry into military service, tuition status of persons separated from active military service, and the definition of "bonafide residence."

The regulations grant authority to treat spouses and children of SIUE staff members as residents, and to treat per-

Donna Zapalac marries Gregory Elmo Brewer

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that taking place March 30 of Miss Donna Zapalac, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Zapalac, Rural Route Two, LaGrange, Tex., and Gregory Elmo Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmo Brewer, 1403 Wagon Gap Trail, Houston, Tex., formerly of Granite City.

The Rev. Francis M. Kolar officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Ellinger, Tex.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white bridal gown designed with a chapel train. Her hair was covered with a lace-veiled veil, and she carried a bouquet of pink and burgundy-colored roses.

Honor attendant Marie Faldyn and the bridesmaids, Beverly Kruppa, Delores Lycka and Delores Zapalac, all cousins of the bride, wore identical gowns.

Their floral patterned dresses were fashioned in pink and burgundy, with long flowing sleeves and ivory eyelet. Each attendant wore a wide brimmed hat pink and held long stem burgundy-colored roses.

The flower girl, Jennifer Lynn Ray, a niece of the groom, was dressed in a white eyelet frock similar in design to the bride's gown. She wore a picture hat and carried a basket of pink and burgundy Sweetheart roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Richard Faldyn, the bride's cousin, served as the ringbearer.

John Richard White attended the groom as best man. Billy Miller, Terrence Lee Menard and Kenneth Morris Zapalac, the bride's brothers, were groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were James Patton, Eric Varty, Dennis Belota and Charles Faldyn.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Brewer at a reception in the American Legion Hall at LaGrange, and the rehearsal dinner was given at the Cotton Wood Inn, LaGrange.

After a wedding trip to the Rocky Mountains, the couple will reside in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of LaGrange High School and Blinn College. She is now a student at Texas A&M University, majoring in medical technology.

A 1970 graduate of Greenwich High School, Greenwich, Conn., the groom graduated from Texas A&M University with B.S. degree in zoology. He now attends graduate school there.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John, 2131 Lee Ave., Granite City.

Patricia McEvers and Michael McKenna wed

The wedding of Miss Patricia McEvers and Michael A. McKenna was solemnized on the afternoon of March 15 in an outdoor setting at the Harry P. Leu Gardens in Orlando, Fla.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. McEvers, 2077 Oneta Court, Orlando, are formerly of Granite City.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nolin, 2131 Lee Ave. The groom is a son of Mrs. Anise McKenna, 904 Shine Ave., Orlando.

A double ring ceremony was performed at 1:30 by Malcolm Anderson. Traditional wedding music, played over a stereo system, included "We've Only Just Begun."

For her wedding, the former Miss McEvers chose a full-length gown created of embroidered organza over taffeta. She wore a wreath of white roses and carnations in her hair to secure a veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses and carnations.

A sister of the bride, Miss Catherine Ann McEvers, was maid of honor. She selected a long pink organza gown, complemented with a pink garden hat. She held a single pink rose.

Fears-Thomas wedding at St. Joseph Church

The wedding of Miss Linda Suzanne Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Thomas, 75 Laurene Court, and Steven Benjamin Fears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fears, 2026 Nameoki Road, was solemnized on April 4 at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

The couple at a 6 p.m. double-ring ceremony in the presence of the Rev. Henry Mack.

Urses holding arrangements of white gladiolus and pom poms interspersed with greenery adorned the altar, and burning tapers in tiered candelabra illuminated the sanctuary.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Thomas selected a long white jersey gown featuring a sheer oval yoke of Schiffl embroidered organza which also formed a stand-up collar.

Long full sleeves were set into the Empire bodice accented with a tiny lace trim at the high-rise waistline. The soft A-line skirt extended into a chapel-length train.

She wore a flat satin bow to secure a veil of Schiffl embroidered organza and held a nosegay of white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Geri Samille, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant.

She chose a floral print halter dress with matching jacket complemented with a powder-blue picture hat.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white pom poms, blue daisies and purple statice.

The groom was attended by his brother, Michael Fears, as best man, and Kenneth Neukam, the bride's brother-in-law, seated the guests.

Mrs. Camille Jones registered the guests at a reception held immediately following the ceremony at the Long Lake Fireman's Hall.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thomas was attired in a shrimp-colored jersey halter dress designed with an Empire bodice and high neckline worn with a long-sleeved jacket.

Jill Scarborough weds Howard Etherton Jr.

St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jill Scarborough and Howard Etherton Jr. on April 5.

The Rev. Robert Kettelhut performed the double ring service at 7 o'clock in the evening before an altar decorated with vases of all-white gladioli, mums and daisies, interspersed with greenery.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scarborough, 3229 Fehling Road. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Etherton Sr., Rural Route Two, Granite City. Robert Hutcheson presided at the organ and accompanied Edward Ashley, who sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white gown fashioned of mira mist over taffeta and designed with a high neckline and long full sleeves.

The slightly gathered skirt fell gently into a full sweep train.

A lace halo headpiece secured her melodic length veil, edged in Venice lace, and she held a cascade of white carnations, statice and pompons with trailing ivy and carnation leaves.

Honor attendant Miss Denette Ruebhausen and the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Etherton and Miss Jane Scarborough, sisters of the bride and groom, wore identically styled gowns of aqua, mint and yellow organza.

Designed in a pinaflore effect, their long dresses were made with pin stripe yoke and long sleeves. A tiny ruffle edged the high necklines and square yokes.

They carried matching nosegays of daisies in hues to match their attire, trimmed with leather leaves and centered in a garland of lace.

Marty Rapp attended the groom as best man. Jack and Jeff Scarborough, brothers of the bride, Jim Forrester and Dennis Foret completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother selected a pale yellow polyester gown complemented with a lace jacket and gold accessories. Mrs. Etherton, mother of the groom, appeared in a long aqua dress. She wore silver accessories. Both mothers had corsages of yellow Sweetheart roses.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Etherton at a reception at the American Legion Hall immediately following the ceremony. Robin Scarborough, a cousin of the bride, attended the guest book.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner for the bride party on the evening preceding the wedding, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Both newlyweds graduated from Granite City High School. The former Miss Scarborough is employed at Granite City Steel and her husband works at the Colonades Nursing Home.

They are now residing in Granite City after a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ashley and daughters, Christine and Jane, Wayzata, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ashley and sons, Jeff and Chris, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Baker and children, David, Laura and Stephen, Elmhurst, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mifflin, all of Murphysboro, Ill.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

Many of you customers may have noticed our new front end manager, Dean Anthony. Dean was with the Piggly Wiggly operation in Belleville for many years, and we are hoping that he can give us many new ideas. Next time you are in, introduce yourself to Dean. We are sure you'll like him. By the way, Dean is authorized to handle any problems, or requests you might have... like okaying checks, special orders, returns, or question.

Speaking of our valued employees, we had another occasion last Friday to brag. About three o'clock in the afternoon a man came through the checkout lane where Margaret Champion was working carrying what looked like a case of beer with a five pound bag of sugar on top. Alert as always, Margaret asked to see inside the case. When she opened up the case she found that it was stuffed with about $60 worth of meat. We have always considered Margaret to be one of our best, and you can see why. We hope the rest of our employees are as alert and will take a lesson.

Library Week brings waiver of fines on all overdue books

By JEANETTE KAMPEN
Granite City Public Library National Library Week is being observed this year during the week of April 13-19. The theme is "Information Power."

Now in its nineteenth year, the National Library Week program is designed to increase public interest in books, reading and libraries. During this week, there will be no fines on overdue books at GCPL.

New break in sewer on Jill

A new break in a sanitary sewer line in the east end of the 3100 block of Jill Avenue developed Friday, according to Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets.

The 37th occurred last week on Franklin Avenue at Amos Avenue.

The city has spent nearly $2 million repairing some 16 of the breaks, but 22 remain unrepaired due to lack of funds and a study to determine whether it would be more feasible to replace the sewer system with new sanitary sewers.

Foster parents needed in area

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is initiating a recruitment campaign in the Madison County area to find foster parents for adolescent children who, for one reason or another, are unable to live with their natural families.

The department is currently facing a critical shortage of foster parents since an insufficient number of Madison County residents applied to meet the needs of children in counties requiring foster placement.

The main requirements for foster parents are flexibility, patience and understanding, according to Al Schebera, resource development worker, Department of Children and Family Services.

Foster parents may be couples or individuals. They must be 21, but other than the requirement they may be from almost any age group. Some children will stay with their foster parents for relatively short periods of time. Others may stay until they are able to return to their own families or until they enter another permanent living situation, such as adoption—another program offered by the department.

In any case, the Department of Children and Family Services pays foster parents a fee for each child. The fee will vary with the age and needs of the foster child, and is intended to cover the child's board, clothing and incidental expenses incurred by foster children are paid separately by the state.

Residents of Madison County interested in becoming foster parents or volunteers may contact Al Schebera at 876-8985.

Prospective foster parents will be invited to attend a group meeting of applicants. Before becoming a foster parent, a person must be licensed.

The licensing process consists primarily of attendance at a group meeting, a series of home interviews with an agency social worker, a medical examination, good references from persons listed on the foster parent application, and attendance at a series of training sessions.

Final comments by Moss, Mrs. Singer

Campaign statements were issued during the weekend by Pontoon Beach Village President Floyd Davis Moss and by Mrs. Lillian Singer, who is conducting a write-in campaign for the presidency.

Village voting will take place tomorrow.

Moss said Howard Kasberg, owner, has agreed to annex 1,200 acres property on Route 11.

"The major portion will be commercial property, and I look on this as another possible Fairview Heights, greatly expanding and strengthening the Pontoon Beach tax base," Moss said. He estimated the action will double the land area of the village. He said necessary documents will be signed at the April 24 village board meeting.

Moss cited expanded street lighting, doubling the number of two years ago, with three more lights to be placed at the Gaslight Walk area and Kasberg East mobile home park.

With seven new police, four of them paid through federal funds, crime had decreased, he said, adding that three federal-paid men have been utilized as the first full-time road maintenance crew.

Moss said he has donated his per diem pay to a village service club, and personally paid for material and patched a street at Kasberg East. He also financed Christmas treats, and has secured a branch of the Coordinated Youth Service office for the village hall starting in June, Moss said.

Mrs. Singer said not all members of the incumbent party have donated their pay, and that some of the property annexed and rezoned belongs to Mayor Moss.

She is also displeased with distribution of funds raised by the Lions club, and questions whether Moss can serve effectively "when his state job keeps him out of town much of the time."

She disagrees with use of some of the revenue of the village, and alleges that the present administration "refused to allow" her name to be printed on the April 15 ballot. She is asking write-in votes for L. Singer for village president and L. Henke for village clerk.

She said Moss after his previous election requested the resignations of all appointed village officials and then reappointed them. She asks, "Was it for the good of the village or to show who is the boss?"

'Win' staff notices here

Mrs. Thomas (Nadine) Ryan of Granite City, supervisor of the Work Incentive Program office in Granite City, and ten other members of the 25-employee "Win" staff were among those notified Friday of termination by the state government.

State employment service workers here and elsewhere are terming such dismissals — 527 statewide — as arbitrary and have authorized a strike, perhaps starting this Thursday. They allege that Gov. Daniel Walker hopes to curb civil service and open up jobs for patronage appointments.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID J. BOLLING, whose wedding took place at the First Baptist Church in Carterville, Ill. The bride is the former Cynthia Lou Austin, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harkins of Carterville.

Cloverview aids nursing home

Cloverview Garden Club members voted last week to supply bird seed for feeders recently purchased by the club for the Colonial Haven Nursing Home, and Mrs. William Bradley agreed to provide an arrangement of fresh flowers for the facility's recreation room.

Both projects were on the meeting agenda at the April business session at the home of Mrs. Joseph Ochoa, 2309 Waterman Ave. Mrs. Richard Branding, newly installed president, was in charge.

Reviewing activities at the annual meeting of District V, Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., Mrs. Branding reported the local group was awarded a blue ribbon for its history and yearbook. Mrs. Branding received a red ribbon in the artistic division for a floral arrangement, focusing on the theme—"Welcome Happy Morning."

Plans were made to attend the District V workshop, set April 24 at the First Presbyterian Church in Belleville. A potluck luncheon will precede the session, Mrs. Branding said.

The workshop will include segments by Mrs. Alma Holigrew of Mascoutah, who will discuss "World Grading"; Mrs. Charles Kohl of Granite City, whose topic will be "People and Their Environment"; and Mrs. Norma Richter, Lebanon, and Mrs. Henry Heberer, Mascoutah, who will review plans for the district's flower show in May.

Members were invited to attend the annual "Guest Day" luncheon of the Garden Study Club at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church on May 7, and plans were made to participate in the Downtown Restoration Society's house tour on Sunday, May 4. Also reviewed were schedules and other details relating to the District V flower show, May 18 to May 18, at St. Clair Shopping

Cynthia Austin becomes Mrs. David J. Bolling

Cynthia Lou Austin of Highland, Ill., and David James Bolling, 4000 Gaslight Walk Apts., exchanged wedding vows on March 1 at the First Baptist Church in Carterville, Ill.

The Rev. Bob Pierce officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. A reception followed at the Ramada Inn in Marion, Ill.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harkins, reside on Rural Route One, Carterville. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bolling, 1918 Benton St.

Eileen Hemerson, organist, provided a program of wedding selections and accompanied the soloist, Rick McNeil.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown of white organza, designed with an Empire bodice and slightly full skirt.

Chantilly lace accented the high neckline, bodice and long sheer sleeves, which terminated at the wrist in pleated ruffles.

Lace motifs were repeated on the skirt and encircled the chapel train.

She wore a floral lace headpiece to secure a short bouffant veil and held a Bible topped with an arrangement of white roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Miss Leah Hargst and the bridesmaids included Mrs. Larry Harp, Mrs. Charles Bryant and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, a sister of the groom.

They wore identical Nile green dresses, formal length, fashioned in an Empire style with V-necklines and long fitted sleeves.

Each held a nosegay of yellow daisies and carnations with baby's breath festooned with avocado ribbons.

The groom chose Bob Reed of Granite City as his best

The Evening Guild met at St. John United Church of Christ last week and elected Mrs. Jane Kennerly as president.

Others chosen were Mrs. Hamilos, vice-president; Mrs. Harriet Bunselmyer, secretary and Mrs. Doris Laboratory, treasurer.

Members gathered in the St. John fellowship hall and viewed a hobby display.

Among the items exhibited were jewelry created of polished stones, knitted articles, art works, sewing and quilts. Pictures made with shells, collected in this country and overseas, also were featured.

During the meeting plans were completed for guild members to serve as ushers at the May Fellowship Day program, sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women United, and to hold the annual mother and daughter banquet on May 12 at the church.

The hostesses, Mrs. Judy Stille, Mrs. Thelma Sues, Mrs. Hamilos and Mrs. Lida Theis, served refreshments to 24 members and two guests.

Competition Tuesday for Madison, Pontoon Beach offices

Municipal elections scheduled in the Quad-City area tomorrow focus attention primarily on board-of-city-membership in Madison and Pontoon Beach.

There is no opposition for four incumbent aldermen seeking four-year terms in Venice on Tuesday. They are: Thomas Voegelé, with one year of experience as First Ward alderman; George J. Mangiaracino, Second Ward alderman for 20 years; George E. Lewis, named to a Third Ward post on the City Council three months ago; and Oscar King, another 20-year alderman, who represents the Fourth Ward.

In the Village of Pontoon Beach, President Floyd David Moss has no ballot opposition but a write-in campaign has been launched by Mrs. Lillian Singer.

The incumbent has actively sought to develop and increase village services during his two years as the chief municipal executive. Police and highway staffs have been expanded and a village hall has been established. The Press-Record believes he deserves election to a full four-year term.

Another write-in effort is being made in Pontoon Beach, on behalf of Mrs. Lois Henke for the position of village clerk. The incumbent clerk, Mrs. Corrine Kreher, did not seek re-election. We believe Mrs. Mary McCoy Warren, the clerk candidate of the Village Improvement Progressive Party, could serve effectively.

The party ticket includes Mayor Moss and three candidates for three village trustee posts, Loren L. Madison, Duane Skinner and Keith Biggs. Also running for trustee is Dean E. Rochester, an independent candidate.

Marvin Ribbing is not a candidate. The other two incumbent board members, Madison and Rochester, merit re-election on the basis of their experience and ability.

A trustee for four years, Madison has been a village official six years; Rochester, a doctor of education who is professor of counseling at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been a village trustee for the past eight years.

For the third board post in Pontoon Beach, either Skinner or Biggs would perform the duties conscientiously. We favor Skinner, an accountant, who has served efficiently as the appointed village trustee.

In tomorrow's balloting in the City of Madison, there is no opposition for three aldermen—Paul Ashford, who has spent four years representing the First Ward; Donald L. Broyles, Second Ward alderman for the past eight years; and the Fourth Ward's Mike Sikora, also a City Council member for eight years.

Fifth Ward opponents are John H. Haynes, an alderman for the past 31 years, and Donald E. Garrett. The incumbent has served industriously and is familiar with governmental procedures; the challenger has no direct experience in government but pledged to work for expanded recreational programs, employment opportunities for young people and refurbishing of residential structures. Both appear capable of dedicated and vigorous efforts to improve living conditions.

Largest numerical competition is in Madison's Third Ward, where six are running for the position formerly held by the late Stanley Krakowiecki.

The Ward Three aspirants are Mike Wajaski, Anthony Romanic, Ronald L. Grzywacz, Tony Troits, David Clark and Gary R. Novich. We lean toward Grzywacz, a construction worker and owner of a car wash business, who promises availability and energetic response to citizens' concerns.

THE BUREAUCRATS

Chicago Daily News—Another attempt is under way in the legislature to avert the confusion of a double Memorial Day holiday in Illinois, and it comes now too soon.

If the Assembly fails to act, we'll be treated to another week in May when federal and state holidays four days apart disrupt business, banking, schools and plans for family get-togethers.

Federal law decreed several years ago that the Memorial Day holiday fall on the last Monday in May, providing a three-day weekend. The federal holiday this year falls on May 26.

But since the legislature voted two years ago to observe Memorial Day on the traditional date—May 30—Monday and Friday of that week will both be semi-holidays as the laws now stand.

At a recent hearing before the Illinois Senate Executive Committee, a spokesman for the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce testified as to what last year's confusion was like.

More than 80 per cent of all businesses in the state observed the federal holiday, as did federal offices and the Postal Service.

But all the schools had to close on the state holiday, which fell on Thursday, along with city and state offices.

Devised computer services, court cases, banking transactions and the like all were disrupted.

Most labor contracts designate Memorial Day as a holiday, and the question arises again this year as to which holiday is the "legal" one for contract purposes, when both are plainly legal.

The State Chamber says it is already being besieged by inquiries about which business will be closing when, and its surveys forecast only more confusion to match that of last year.

The legislature failed last year to remedy this situation even after the extent of disruption had been demonstrated.

The Assembly, under different leadership, may see things differently, and adopt measures to revert to the federal holiday. On the evidence, it should.

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD—Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett is quietly assuming an additional role—presidential broker.

There is a feeling beneath the Statehouse dome that in doing so he is serving as a convenient surrogate for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley. It hints strongly of a developing strategy to throttle the well-known political ambitions of Gov. Daniel Walker.

On April 4 Howlett hosted a Democratic organization breakfast at the St. Nicholas hotel for presidential hopeful Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas. Bentsen, a 54-year-old Texas millionaire, formally announced his candidacy for president in February and is considered as one of the top contenders.

An early visit to such a key state as Illinois could have national significance.

It has also been learned that supporters of another leading contender for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington state, have been sounding out Howlett as a potential sponsor in Illinois.

There are a number of obvious reasons why any aspirant for president from another state would seek the Illinois support of Howlett. He is generally recognized as the most personally popular politician in the state today.

A good word from Howlett and an association or identity with him is enough to assure a candidate a friendly reception in what is generally considered the most influential of the midwestern states.

It is also recognized in political circles that Howlett, despite some differences in the comparatively distant past, stands in the good graces of Mayor Daley. And

The FORM Candidate is young and hard-working

To the Editor: We just want to take a few lines to tell the voters of Ward Three in Madison that they have a chance to elect as alderman a hard-working young man.

Ron Grzywacz for many years worked on the Madison Police Department. He has been in the field for the last three years in the construction field, and worked weekends at his car wash, in order to get ahead and have things for his family.

Too hard to reach deputies by phone

To the Editor: Complaints from Quad-City area residents who rely on the Madison County Sheriff's Department for protection have increased in recent months. The department has become increasingly difficult to reach by telephone.

On previous occasions, there have been appeals that the sheriff's department provide a toll-free telephone for residents of the unincorporated areas surrounding Granite City.

A spokesman has commented that the toll-free line would be too expensive and funds are not available in the budget. The latest budget approved in recent months has provided for a toll-free telephone line to this area.

The courthouse has such a number for elected officials. The problem of reaching the sheriff's department in an emergency has become more acute in recent months as the number of calls to that department, particularly the detectives and administrators, has increased steadily. All the department's lines are in use nearly half the time when calls are attempted, causing delay in obtaining help.

In an effort to help alleviate the problem, the sheriff has made use of an operator who often answers the telephone when all lines are busy and inquires, "Are you calling the sheriff on an emergency?"

The operator presumably would interrupt conversations in progress at the sheriff's office if an emergency call were being made.

In theory, the operator assures that emergency calls reach the office quickly, despite telephone "tie-ups." In reality, the operator often is harder to reach than the sheriff's department itself.

period of time before being answered.

One man, after allowing the telephone to ring for the operator about 20 times, responded to her question if there was an emergency by replying, "If there were, I would be dead by now."

Dependable and fast access by telephone to the sheriff's department is essential for many Quad-City area residents.

Failure to provide such service is being construed by many as a "life-or-death game" involving the lives of many in this area.

A toll-free telephone seems justified for Quad-City area unincorporated residents who pay taxes for police protection but also must pay a toll to reach that protection.

In the meantime, there can be no public belief in the rapid availability of the department. You just can't hardly reach the department from here.

QUAD-CITY RESIDENT

Fears registration of all gun owners

To the Editor: The Conyers Subcommittee on Crime of the U. S. House of Representatives, which has of late been holding hearings, so far strongly anti-gun in nature, met again, apparently for its final Washington meeting of this series.

The general trend leaned toward all-gun registration, with the Treasury Department using national computers to identify gun owners.

This is to inform the people of Granite City what a fair-minded superintendent of streets they elected.

My son works for the street department and works very hard at his job.

He helped organize Explorer Post 10-4 and was a regular feature for local schoolchildren with obedience demonstrations with his police dog, "Sir Kelly."

Another example of his interest in youth was the fine football program he organized for teams in all age groups.

As a property owner of both his home and business, he appreciates our needs. I think he can add some new and fresh ideas to our City Council.

He is a good age—not too young to be foolish and rash, but still young enough to withstand the responsibilities that will fall on his shoulders.

There are several fine men running for alderman in our ward. But I think Ron Grzywacz should be the people's choice, as he is the best qualified for the position.

Mrs. Singer write-in candidate for president of Pontoon Beach

Mrs. Lillian L. Singer, of 38 Victoria Drive, Pontoon Beach, is conducting a write-in campaign for the presidency of the Pontoon Beach Village Board. She is asking residents to write-in "L. Singer" on the ballot for village board president tomorrow.

Mrs. Singer filed a petition of candidacy with village officials on the last day of filing, but the petition was denied as being past the deadline.

Mrs. Singer has resided in the Quad-City area 12 years and in Pontoon Beach five years.

She graduated from Salem Community High School in Salem, Ill., and attended Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Tex.

A former Nameoki Township Precinct One Democratic committeewoman, she was a delegate to the 1972 Democratic national convention in Miami, Fla.

She is active in the Mitchell School Parent-Teacher Association and serves as a room mother at the school.

Mrs. Singer says that, if elected, she will work toward a clean-up of the Quiet Valley area's lagoon, appoint a full-time street commissioner and encourage close cooperation between the township and the village for improved mosquito control, trash and tree limb pickup and other programs.

She also said she would attempt to get rid of the town hall, find less expensive ways for help from the department and the village officials, and "use the

Mrs. Henke seeks village clerk office

Mrs. Lois Henke, 28, of 6 Victoria Ave., Pontoon Beach, is conducting a write-in campaign for the office of village clerk of Pontoon Beach.

She is requesting that the name "L. Henke" be used when writing her name on the village's April 15 ballot for clerk.

This is her first attempt at public office, but she has been active in past elections in the village. She has been a resident of the village eight years.

Mrs. Henke and her husband, Richard J., have four children, Sharon, Ricky, Stacey and Jimmy. They are members of St. John's Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Henke is a 1964 graduate of Granite City High School.

She says that if elected she will work for village improvement and growth.

She also said she would like to see residents of the village take more interest in their government and express their desires more freely to elected officials.

Howlett branches out as a broker for White House

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD—Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett is quietly assuming an additional role—presidential broker.

There is a feeling beneath the Statehouse dome that in doing so he is serving as a convenient surrogate for Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley. It hints strongly of a developing strategy to throttle the well-known political ambitions of Gov. Daniel Walker.

On April 4 Howlett hosted a Democratic organization breakfast at the St. Nicholas hotel for presidential hopeful Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas. Bentsen, a 54-year-old Texas millionaire, formally announced his candidacy for president in February and is considered as one of the top contenders.

There are a number of obvious reasons why any aspirant for president from another state would seek the Illinois support of Howlett. He is generally recognized as the most personally popular politician in the state today.

A good word from Howlett and an association or identity with him is enough to assure a candidate a friendly reception in what is generally considered the most influential of the midwestern states.

It is also recognized in political circles that Howlett, despite some differences in the comparatively distant past, stands in the good graces of Mayor Daley. And everybody knows that once again in full political control in Illinois, Howlett will have the big say on whom this state's delegation will back at next year's convention.

Traditionally keeps his presidential preferences to himself. In Illinois Daley will have the say under way, adding to the suspense but more importantly, holding back the Illinois choice for the key psychological moment. Meanwhile it is considered doubtful that Howlett would welcome to Illinois any potential presidential candidate that he knew was opposed by Daley.

It would be inconceivable, for instance, to expect Howlett to sponsor a meeting for Sen. George McGovern, ill-fated Democratic presidential candidate of 1972.

Among influential Illinois Democrats there is a feeling that the 72-year-old Daley wants to accomplish three major goals during what is assumed will be his last term as governor.

These are to cap an era of progress for Chicago, assuring it a reputation as the best governed big city in the United States, having a major say in the nomination and election of a new Democratic presidential candidate, and derauling for good the political career of Gov. Walker.

There is probably no area in Illinois where Howlett is in closer agreement than the mutual opinion that Walker is a warning as governor. Both would prefer to see another Democrat in the Executive Mansion in 1977. The prevailing Statehouse belief is that Howlett and Walker have pretensions for the White House itself is believed to give both men the shove.

By occasionally focusing the Illinois political spotlight on other Democratic aspirants Howlett and Daley can dim the potential presidential image of Walker.

Genoa Norman will have the women's evening class on Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m.

The honoree and Allan E. Ratkewicz will be married June 28 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison.

Rainbow colors were used in the table decorations. Arrangements of spring flowers in white vases centered the buffet table and two sprinkling cans, a ruffled umbrella and a bridal doll accented the gift table.

$1 1/2 million job counseling, placement funds for county

A total of 433 state, county and local government jobs will receive an estimated $1.2 billion to operate manpower programs under Title I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) for the 1975-76 fiscal year beginning July 1. Madison County is to get an estimated $1,465,037, compared to a 1974-75 allocation of $1,827,619.

In announcing the estimates, Secretary of Labor John T. Dunlop said the 433 prime sponsors will now be able to plan local programs of training, work experience, summer youth jobs, job counseling and placement, transitional public service employment and other manpower services for fiscal 1976.

The amount earmarked for each prime sponsor is the minimum the sponsor will receive in 1975-76, and is 90 per cent of the amount each received in 1974-75 under Title I.

In calculating the estimates, adjustments were made in the '74-'75 amounts where the composition of prime sponsor areas changed. Final allocations will be based on the actual Congressional appropriations for fiscal 1976.

Dr. Dunlop pointed out that the funds just announced today are not primarily for public service employment, although prime sponsors may, and do, earmark some for this purpose. Regular public employment funds are appropriated under Title II and Title VI of CETA.

Illinois counties received 1974-75 Title I funds of $70,203,237 and the '75-'76 estimates total $63,182,911.

State hampering start on needed new power plant—III. Power Co.

Illinois Power Company may have to request additional time to prepare its case before the Illinois Pollution Control Board (PCB), asking a variance in the PCB's 90-degree maximum water temperature rule on discharge into the Crossroads Plaza. IP plans to build a lake in connection with development of a 1,900,000-kilowatt nuclear generating station near Clinton.

The PCB set April 21 as the date for a hearing on the variance request. Since the date was set, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has requested that the PCB order the company to provide "massive amounts of additional information which will require at least four to six additional weeks to prepare."

"W. C. Gerstner, vice president of Illinois Power, said Thursday.

"We are eager to go ahead with the variance case," he said, "but with these new matters, we need to review our case to add evidence and material which will be time-consuming to prepare."

The company is caught between differences of opinion among different governmental agencies on the allowable maximum water temperature discharge into the lake IP hopes to build, provide cooling water for the plant.

The former federal Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) now the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), in its environmental evaluation of the Clinton plant, set a maximum of 90 degrees for summertime discharge of water into the planned 5,000-acre lake.

The plant design has been changed to accommodate that requirement, but the U. S. EPA objected because the design did not meet the year-round 90-degree maximum discharge called for by state environmental rules.

At the suggestion of the state EPA, Illinois Power applied for a variance to the state rule, and the PCB set the April 21 hearing date.

"This new delay jeopardizes further our plans to put the first 950,000 Kw unit on the line to meet our 1981 electric power load," Gerstner said.

"Only the company, apparently, feels the urgency to begin construction. If we can't build this unit to be on the line by 1981, we must, in quick time, shift to some other site and fuel source. There is little time left for that decision."

Girl released unharmed

A Granite City girl reported to police at 9:45 p.m. Saturday that she was offered a ride by a man who later told her he was going to rape her.

The man drove her toward Mitchell, from downtown Granite City, but returned her to the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center after she pleaded with him not to hurt her.

He told her he had molested two other women and that if she went to the police he would harm her later.

The man was described as 22 to 25 years old, with shoulder-length brown hair, six feet tall and driving a white Ford Mustang with black top, bearing Missouri plates.

School candidates air views

A public candidates' forum Thursday night at Coolidge Junior High School was attended by seven of the candidates on Saturday's Belleville Area College board ballot and by two of the three Granite City Board of Education candidates.

Granite City board candidates present were Thomas George Miosky, 3135 Colgate Place, and Stan Welch, 3877 Rodney Drive, Ponton Beach. The incumbent, L. Monroe Worthen was unable to attend.

Seven of the 12 BAC candidates attended and another sent a representative. Present were William L. Gushleff, 1671 Fourth St., Madison, Arno V. Sponen, 1660 Ruth St., Mitchell area, Mearl J. Justus, Cahokia, E. J. Kane, Edward F. O'Malley, and Deanna R. Wegmann, all of Belleville and Guy T. DeChiaro of Collinsville.

Stephen P. Wilburn of Belleville, another BAC candidate, had Rita Sprague, a student, represent him and read his remarks.

The moderator for the meeting was Leo Konzen, an attorney in Granite City. Each candidate was given five minutes to make a statement, after which questions from the floor were answered.

Welch and Miosky both felt the number of administrative positions in the Granite City school system should be trimmed and some of the jobs should be consolidated. Both supported reducing school taxes by better administration in the district.

Neither wanted educational programs reduced and both had ideas for improving and expanding some programs. Both said they felt a problem at Parkway School in which an entire class is below normal in its achievement level is a problem with which the principal should be allowed to deal.

They said they felt the administration should select the best possible principals and let them deal with in-school problems more.

BAC candidates supported extension services for the Quad-City area, tax reductions and improved educational programs in the rapidly growing college district.
